

This block contains a dark, textured rectangular area, likely representing a book cover or endpaper. It has a mottled appearance with varying shades of brown and black, suggesting wear or a specific material texture. The edges are slightly irregular, and there's a vertical crease or fold visible on the left side.