

INDEPENDENT NATIONAL AGRICULTURAL COMMISSION
COMMITTEE ON REPORT OF AGRI. RESEARCH BOARD, 1957
THE NATIONAL BUREAU OF AGRICULTURE

1. The Commission has received the report of the Agricultural Research Board, 1957, and has considered it in the light of the findings of the Commission's previous reports.

2. The Commission has found that the report of the Agricultural Research Board, 1957, is a valuable contribution to the knowledge of the agricultural situation in India, and that it contains many suggestions for the improvement of agriculture.

3. The Commission has found that the report of the Agricultural Research Board, 1957, is a valuable contribution to the knowledge of the agricultural situation in India, and that it contains many suggestions for the improvement of agriculture.

4. The Commission has found that the report of the Agricultural Research Board, 1957, is a valuable contribution to the knowledge of the agricultural situation in India, and that it contains many suggestions for the improvement of agriculture.

5. The Commission has found that the report of the Agricultural Research Board, 1957, is a valuable contribution to the knowledge of the agricultural situation in India, and that it contains many suggestions for the improvement of agriculture.

6. The Commission has found that the report of the Agricultural Research Board, 1957, is a valuable contribution to the knowledge of the agricultural situation in India, and that it contains many suggestions for the improvement of agriculture.

7. The Commission has found that the report of the Agricultural Research Board, 1957, is a valuable contribution to the knowledge of the agricultural situation in India, and that it contains many suggestions for the improvement of agriculture.

8. The Commission has found that the report of the Agricultural Research Board, 1957, is a valuable contribution to the knowledge of the agricultural situation in India, and that it contains many suggestions for the improvement of agriculture.

1/1/58